

CCG Analysis - Entity Relationship Diagram

Magic cards are released in product release groupings known as sets. Every card is part of a set. Sets usually contain many cards, but there is a chance that a set contains no cards in this project, depending on if cards are extremely niche or actively sold enough to assign them a market price per each retailer.

Like sets, Pokemon cards are released in groups. They are functionally the same as Magic sets.

